Savannah Camel Cardiac MRI Preadmission Clinic

Welcome to preadmission

The Paediatric cardiology team are looking forward to meeting you and your family. Here is some information about the cardiac preadmission clinic at Evelina London Children's Hospital.

What is the preadmission clinic?

This is an outpatient appointment to prepare you and your family for your Cardiac MRI procedure and hospital stay. It checks that you are fit and well for the procedure.

The preadmission appointment has to be carried out at least a day before the procedure although it can also be done at anytime during the week before the procedure. Please allow up to four hours for all tests to be completed.

What is the aim of the appointment?

By carrying out tests and investigations prior to the day of the procedure, results will be available in plenty of time reducing the risk of cancellation, avoiding delays and enabling tests to be repeated if necessary.

What happens at the preadmission clinic?

You will meet the preadmission nurse, doctors and play specialist. They will take your medical history and any other information needed before you are admitted to hospital.

The preadmission nurse will explain what will happen before and after your procedure, and you will be seen by the cardiac doctor carrying out the procedure. You and your family will be able to ask any remaining questions about it and you and your family will be asked to give permission by signing the consent form.

All patients are also seen by the anaesthetist before their procedure, either at preadmission or on the day. The anaesthetist will explain the types of anaesthesia that are used at the hospital and the options for pain relief before and after the procedure. You can have a leaflet regarding anaesthesia.

Tests you may need

Heart Scan (ECHO).

Electrocardiograph (ECG) if not had one here within the last three months.

Chest X-ray if respiratory symptoms.

Various blood tests

These will be discussed with you and your family as they depend on your cardiac condition and medications you may be taking. You can have anaesthetic (numbing) cream put on before the bloods are taken.

Blood tests can include some or all of the following:

- FBC- full blood count, to check if you have a low or high number of red blood cells
- U&Es-urea and electrolytes to check your kidneys are working properly
- Clotting-to check how long it takes the blood to clot

The preadmission nurse will also do routine infection screening swabs for all patients admitted to the hospital. In accordance with hospital policy, all female patients over 12 years of age will undergo a pregnancy test.

After the appointment

You should not have anything to eat during the six hours before your procedure. You can drink water up to two hours before your procedure. Exact times will be explained to you by the preadmission nurse.

If there is no requirements for you to stay on Savannah ward the night before the procedure, you may have accommodation booked at Gassiot house, which is on hospital grounds, or the Counting House at Guy's Hospital. The preadmission nurse will give you information where to go and when to return to hospital.
