

Going home with a peritoneal dialysis catheter before starting dialysis

A guide for after your child is discharged home with a peritoneal dialysis (PD) catheter, but has not started dialysis.

Going home on PD

A PD catheter has been inserted into your child's abdomen (tummy) so that they can start PD once the exit site has healed.

Leaving the hospital with a PD catheter without a nursing team around to support you, may feel a bit scary.

The home therapies team want to make this transition as smooth as possible, and this leaflet will give you information about the time between discharge and the next stage. The next stage will be an admission of about 14 days to show you how to use the catheter for dialysis.

Before discharge, you will be given clear instructions on when you should ask for help, and who to contact.

At all other times, if you have medical concerns, please contact Beach Ward, tel: 020 7188 8844 and ask to speak to the nurse in charge.

Medication

You will get at least two weeks of medication on discharge from Beach ward.

Dressings

You have been given a supply of dressings to take home in case of an emergency. The home therapies team will have contacted your child's community nurse before discharge.

Your child's dressing will be changed each week in clinic by the home therapies nursing team. If you notice the dressing is coming loose, or if there is discharge on the dressing, this will need to be changed earlier by the assigned children's community nurse. If you tell the home therapies team they will arrange this for you.

Clinic

While we are resting your child's PD catheter, you will be seen once a week in clinic. We will flush your child's PD catheter and change their dressing during this visit.

The clinic appointments take place on the Penguin Unit, St Thomas's Hospital, South Wing, Block C, Level 3, on a Monday and Thursday morning.

Blood tests

We ask for you to get your child's blood taken at the Blood Test Centre after clinic. This can be found on the ground floor, South Wing.

Travel

You can claim your travel fares back for all kidney-related appointments. Please ask the team for more information.

Home therapies team

The team who will be looking after your child on discharge from hospital will be made up of clinical nurse specialist (CNS), and a consultant.
